

Sinclair Broadcasting is forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. It is a clear example of defying the rules established by the FCC. This is just one of the dangers of media consolidation, allowing power to breed corruption. It is your job to prevent this type of use. Please respond appropriately.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. It's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
